NCTA is a very unique college and should not be on the same "grading scales" as others because of that reason

NCTA offers an opportunity to students that probably never went to college before a chance to come here and earn a degree in something that interests them.

The teachers are well-informed in their areas of study as they all have had first-hand experience and held jobs in the "real world"

The teachers, faculty, and staff show they genuinely care about students as individuals and help you in any way they can.

I would like to thank NCTA for my success of two years here. I highly recommend this school to anyone interested in a job of agriculture relation, especially at home

The 560 mile trip is nothing when you have family at home and a family of friends at NCTA, both encouraging you and helping you along the way

Upgrade cafeteria! The food usually isn't satisfying, many other colleges, especially UNL, have very nice food choices. If we have to follow everything else they do, the rules need to apply to food. (Need more than little smokies and mac-n-cheese for supper)

Give the students a reason to stay on campus during the weekends, but don't be mad when people don't show up

Things involving the dorms need to be fixed right away NOT 2 years later.

Problems don't get solved in a reasonable amount of time

Administrators need to act like adults and get along - for the sake of the students at least. No badmouthing or causing question in the students' mind which teacher to listen to

Definitely needs to be more activities for the students to participate in - Ag Olympics or something

Mandatory attendance was not enforced and students don't take Student Senate seriously

Extended library hours including availability on weekends
Study areas should be monitored with no talking and no cell phones

Improvements need to be made to the appearance of buildings and grounds

Should implement a monthly payment schedule for each semester

There is nothing for us to do on a regular basis. A movie night maybe every month doesn't count

Get NCTA out there. I didn't hear about it until I was through 2 colleges and 21 years old.

Students are not allowed hardly any input in decision making. Student senate is never involved in this. They only tell us changes and allow us to discuss it but never vote on anything.

The staff has sooo much drama it's ridiculous. Students get pulled into it and this makes it awkward. Also many teachers are very unprofessional in general.

Academic probation and suspension policies need to be held to a higher standard

A lot of feedback from students in other institutions has mentioned that our classes are too easy and may not get us prepared for a continued education at a University or have us prepared to enter the work force

Not much is going on to get students who live off campus informed about schedules/events going on

I think that the billing system for the college could be worked on along with the quality of food available at the cafeteria

Some of the staff is not a good fit for the college

We need to have the community involved more with our college

The LTC needs to be open for more people

Need pigs so students can learn more about them in person

Need to replace one of the livestock teachers

Need to have more student activities

I'm not disappointed at how the buildings look, but the cattle facilities. If I was a prospective student and saw how the feedlot gets to looking, I would definitely think twice about attending

Only offering workstudy or farm just to students who are eligible for financial aid. Just because I'm not eligible doesn't mean I couldn't use the money, it's unfair.

Easter should be taken off; it could be part of spring break
I tried to write a check to pay my bill, and they said I would still get a late fee because I would have to send it to UNL

The employment should work around class schedules but they don't always

There should be a shower in the workout and athletic facilities

The school isn't strict enough with their policies. Some people get in trouble for small things, while others get away with big things.

Parking areas should be marked, or a map should be provided

The residents' halls are not monitored very well. There are too many problems for the price being paid to stay in them

The school farm needs a serious makeover. Appearance is people's first impression of this school and a lot of it looks pretty pathetic. Other than outsiders seeing it, the fact that schools barbed wire fence isn't tight or even up in some places sends a very bad message to students. Little things like that require minimal time and labor and I believe it needs to change

The "hands on" side is a huge bonus it has to offer, but those facilities don't always look the best when potential students look around the farm. I just think the feedlot and machinery could be better maintained

Very positive atmosphere at NCTA. Loved being a person and not just a number

As an APS student I would like to see more students involved with the activities on the college land. I feel that this land is underutilized and that students should be shown the best management techniques on the college farm

In short, the property of NCTA should be an example to area producers and students. Students, however, need to be more involved or at least shown refined management techniques as well as get educated on the management decisions dealing with the college farm

Wonderful college involvement with clubs

Excellent employment opportunities also.

The school is perfect for learning the technical skills you need to do a practical job
