

NEBRASKA COLLEGE OF TECHNICAL AGRICULTURE

NCTA NEWS
404 East 7th Street
Curtis, NE 69025-9525
Mary Crawford: 308-367-5231
mcrawford@unl.edu

Sept. 27, 2018
By NCTA News

Aggie students host campus tours

CURTIS, Neb. – Twenty students have been named as ambassadors for the fall semester at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis.

The students host activities on campus and guide tours for student groups and prospective students.

Campus tours are arranged through Linda Cole, tour coordinator and administrative support associate at the Nebraska Agriculture Industry Education Center.

The ambassadors greet guests at the NCTA Welcome Center for campus tours. Student ambassadors this semester, from Nebraska unless otherwise indicated, are:

Megan Adams	Eaton, Colorado
Clade Anderson	Otis, Kansas
Madelyn Anderson	Curtis
Adrienne Boland	Alton, Kansas
Sadie Christensen	Arnold
Rebekah Daniels	Mullen
Anna Esch	Spalding
Haley Farr	Cambridge
Trisha Fox	Stuart
Dean Fler	Pierce
Morgan Lease	Bridgeport
Kayla Mues	Bartley
Alexis Penna	Holley, New York
Luke Peters	Ainsworth
Amanda Schmidt	Stanton
Claire Schmidt	Arlington
Chantelle Schulz	York
Clare Smith	Marysville, Kansas
Chrissy Starkey	Genoa
Paige Twohig	Funk

Tour information is available online at: <https://ncta.unl.edu/ncta-campus-tours> or by calling Linda Cole at 308-367-5240.

Ambassadors will be assisting at the NCTA Discovery Day on October 8. For details for lunch and tour pre-registration see <https://ncta.unl.edu/discovery-days>.

Jordan Bayliss Kragt, an NCTA ambassador in 2016-2017, gives prospective students a tour during a visit to the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis. Today, the veterinary technology graduate works in a small animal veterinary clinic in Urbandale, Iowa. (Craig Chandler / NCTA file photo)

See this article online at: <https://go.unl.edu/5ywu>

#

Source: Linda Cole, NCTA tour coordinator, (308) 367-5240 or lc1@unl.edu

Editor: Mary Crawford, NCTA News coordinator, (308) 367-523, mcrawford@unl.edu