

NEBRASKA COLLEGE OF TECHNICAL AGRICULTURE

Sept. 20, 2021

Aggie Rodeo: Nebraska to Iowa

By NCTA News

CURTIS, Neb. – Aggie Rodeo from the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis heads to Iowa this weekend.

NCTA Aggie athletes will compete at Iowa Central Community College in Fort Dodge this Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24-25.

Four Aggies entered a double set of rodeos in North Platte last weekend and came up short in the payout of the Mid-Plains Community College Stampede held at the Buffalo Bill Wild West Arena.

Nathan Burnett of Shelton rides saddle broncs; Ellie Stohlmann of Ashland team ropes and barrel races, and Alexx Malchow of Beatrice and Celeste Tanguay of Derby Center, Vermont, both race barrels, as well.

Aggie contestants entered in Iowa this weekend include Burnett, Stohlmann, Malchow, and Callie Bauer of Arcadia who team ropes with a partner from North Dakota.

They will join NCTA Coach Jaden Clark in traveling to the team's third rodeo of the season.

The season finale is a double rodeo at Dickenson State University in North Dakota on Sept. 30-Oct. 2.

Round Robin Team Roping

A new activity started this fall for NCTA Rodeo has been the 2021 Round Robin Team Roping Series, which is each Tuesday night until Nov. 9.

The 10-week series at the Mill Park outdoor arena in Curtis, or at the NCTA Livestock Teaching Center indoor arena on campus, is open with advance registration for roping headers and heelers.

Proceeds are split between the winning header and heeler, and the NCTA Rodeo Team.

Online article: <https://go.unl.edu/e782>

NCTA Rodeo Coach Jaden Clark, at left, joins Celeste Tanguay, Nathan Burnett and Ellie Stohlmann prior to the Thursday night rodeo in North Platte. (George Hipple photo for NCTA)

#