

April 27, 2016

By Cassie Predmore, NCTA student

Two-day showcase for NCTA plant sale

Curtis, Neb. - The Annual Plant Sale at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture will be April 30 and May 5 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the NCTA Greenhouse in Curtis.

The plant sale is conducted every year by the NCTA Horticulture Club and this year features coleus, peppers, tomatoes, irises, houseplants, and more.

“This is a great opportunity for the public to see the Horticulture facilities, and purchase a lot of unique plants at low prices, while supporting the Horticulture Team at the college,” said Tee Bush, horticulture professor.

With graduation and Mother’s Day, the timing is ideal. The project showcases the NCTA’s horticulture program, while generating proceeds for the NCTA club to travel to a yearly national landscape contest, added Bush.

The NCTA greenhouse is near Siminoe Road on campus, two blocks north of Hwy. 23.

A campus map is available at: <http://ncta.unl.edu/Campus-Culture/NCTACampusMap-April2015.pdf>

#

Editor’s Note:

Contributor Cassie Predmore is a first-year student and member of the NCTA Horticulture Club.

The NCTA Horticulture Club is hosting a plant sale at the campus greenhouse in Curtis on April 30 and May 5. Tee Bush and Regan Garey, both of Curtis, at the community garden in 2014. (NCTA News photo)