

Internship

Loup City Ag Products

---

Loup City Ag Products is seeking students who are passionate about the beef industry to participate in our internship program. The program will provide guided practical hands-on experience and training to enhance student's overall understanding about the beef production industries. As a Feedlot intern, you will get the opportunity to rotate and work in various areas of a feedlot including pen riding, doctoring, animal nutrition, yard maintenance, and cattle processing.
